

THE PARTS BOOK

June 28, 2022

To our advertisers and readers past and present;

First, I want to thank you for your continued loyalty in the past 25+ years of your involvement with The Parts Book. We have published The Parts Book since May 1995 and it has been a sincere pleasure doing business with all of you.

However, I would like to inform you that we are closing the publication effective Sept. 1, 2022. Extreme rising paper and mailing costs have taken their toll on The Parts Book and it is no longer viable to publish the magazine. Like much of today's print media, the online world has replaced the old school method of relying on a printed catalog for sourcing parts and attachments.

Our final issue is July 2022 which was mailed yesterday. I hope that we have been successful in our goals to offer excellent advertising results and provide outstanding sources for obtaining parts and attachments for heavy equipment.

Thank you again for your patronage by advertising in and reading The Parts Book.

Sincerely,

Todd Mason, President
